Summer Orientation

Summer New Students Orientation

About Summer NSO

At Summer NSO, you will attend a session where you will explore the opportunities at UMass, receive advising, choose classes, and select housing.

Visit the New Students Orientation website for more information and dates.

What to Expect as an Honors Student

As an Honors student, you will receive information from the Honors college during your Summer NSO. You should expect and explore the following:

NSO Honors Meeting:

During your New Student Orientation (NSO) session, a required Commonwealth Honors College Meeting will be held on your first day of NSO (which will be either Monday or Thursday) in the Commonwealth Honors College.

At this meeting you and other new honors students will discover more about Commonwealth Honors College, its requirements and many academic and social opportunities. In addition, you will:

- connect with other new CHC students
- prepare for scheduling your courses on the second day of NSO
- review the CHC Terms of Agreement as well as Honors requirements
- hear more about honors housing and Honors Residential Academic Program (RAP) options
- have an opportunity to ask questions about CHC

Advising & Course Registration During NSO

Following the Commonwealth Honors College meeting, all students will meet with an advisor and register for classes.

All honors students should register for one or two honors courses during their advising appointment. Honors course suggestions are as follows:

- If in an Honors RAP, students only need to take the honors courses listed for the RAP. They should not plan to sign up for additional Honors courses their first Housing Choices:

For more information about first-year honors students and housing, please see this link.

During NSO, all RAP students will confirm their RAP. Anyone not in a RAP will submit their housing preferences online. All students must confirm their housing.

What to Think About

At Summer NSO, you will receive a lot of information and will have to make many decisions in the span of two days. Therefore, get a head start by considering what courses you want to take and where you want to live.

Here is the Curriculum Overview, which will give you a general outline of the courses you should take. Every year, many honors courses are offered in all the disciplines. To find these courses, simply view the Honors Course Guide.
