Bragging Writes

We take pride in the things that Commonwealth Honors College students, faculty, and staff are doing. Read all about these things here!

Remedies & Research: Pizza & Prof with Wilmore C. Webley
On Tuesday, April 11, Professor of Microbiology and Pre-Medical Advisor Wilmore C. Webley talked to students about biomedical research and its impact on not just your resume for... Read More

Dean Gretchen Gerzina Elected to American Academy of Arts and Sciences
Gretchen Holbrook Gerzina, dean of the Commonwealth Honors College and the Paul Murray Kendall Chair in Biography at the University of Massachusetts Amherst, is among 228... Read More

Linguistics Scholar Speaks at MIT
“Oh, so you study languages?” is a question that CHC junior Jack Duff frequently receives upon telling people that one of his majors is linguistics. The answer is, not really.... Read More
Numbers & Accolades: Honors Professor Wins Prestigious Grant
Professor Joonkoo Park of the Psychological and Brain Studies Department, and joint faculty of the Honors College, recently won a five-year, $751,000 faculty early career... Read More

More than Tang – The Ongoing Impact of the Space Program
The 66 CHC students enrolled in Honors 390EH: How the 1960s Changed America enjoyed some star power at their class meeting on March 30 in the CHC Events Hall East. Col. Cady... Read More

Alumni and Students Chat at Meet the Law
On March 28, 2017, students and alumni at UMass Amherst gathered to discuss legal studies, law, careers, and post-graduation options. Students and alumni munched on sandwiches... Read More

Alumna Danielle O. Dean Wins Distinguished Young Alumni Award
Congratulations to CHC alumna Danielle O'Connor Dean, Class of 2010! Danielle was recently selected by the UMass Amherst Alumni Association for their 2017 Distinguished Young... Read More
"And Still She Persisted": Poetry with a Purpose
Run, run, run, trip, fall, cuss, rise, run, run, run. Such is the process that Senior Lecturer in English, Connolly Ryan, undergoes whenever he writes any poem. Not all of them...

UMass Named Top-Producing Fulbright University for Third Year
The University of Massachusetts, Amherst was named a Top Fulbright Producer for a third consecutive year, with a campus record of 16 Fulbright scholarships that have been awarded...

Entertainment and Education with Kate Leddy
According to the National Association of Anorexia Nervosa and Associated Disorders, at least 30 million people in the United States, of all ages, genders, and races, suffer from...

Remembering Repressed History
History is just that, a story. And before any story gets published, it is edited. Sentences are refined, and sometimes whole chunks of the story may be cropped from the narrative...
A Helping Hand for the Honors Thesis
It is a well-known fact that all CHC students have to eventually complete an honors thesis or project. It is something that looms over us all, but for two and a half years, we can... Read More

Professor Manisha Sinha Discusses Slave Resistance and the Making of American Abolition
During a recent Black History Month Celebration event, Professor Manisha Sinha (Draper Professor of Early American History at the University of Connecticut), discussed her... Read More

Launching an International Career
As an undergraduate studying psychology at UMass Amherst, alumna Rebecca Owen ‘12 did not expect to end up at the Middlebury Institute for International Studies (MIIS) in Monterey... Read More

Compassion from the Core
Denise came to UMass Amherst in her 20s, arriving from a summer job. There she had chosen a "camp name," a standard practice at Girl Scouts camps. After noticing the apple core... Read More
A CHC Student's Focus on Food Recovery
Four nights a week, a group of students gathers at Worcester Dining Commons right as it closes. Just before 8:45 p.m., Commonwealth Honors College sophomore Rachel Stelmach ’19...

Discovering Du Bois
When first-year Honors student Abby Armstrong arrived at UMass, she knew W.E.B. Du Bois as the namesake behind the university’s iconic 26-story library. Now, since thoroughly...

Rising Researchers
By Karen J. Hayes  The Rising Researcher program celebrates undergraduate students who excel in research, scholarship, or creative activity. This year, all six Rising Researchers...

Paws for a Cause
Cali sits in the lobby of the Integrated Sciences Building wearing her red vest. Through the expanse of floor-to-ceiling windows she tracks an overstuffed garbage barrel as it is...
Streaming Recognition
Professor Trea Andrea Russworm, of the English department, hosted a Pizza & Prof on November 9, discussing race, digital culture, and the technologies of protest. Russworm’s...  Read More

Source URL (retrieved on 11/08/2018 - 8:55pm):
https://www.honors.umass.edu/bragging-writes?page=3