Bragging Writes

We take pride in the things that Commonwealth Honors College students, faculty, and staff are doing. Read all about these things here!

Be Awesome Without Their Permission
“Be awesome without their permission,” the PowerPoint slide greeted the audience as they packed into the CHC Events Hall on Sunday, February 23. Hundreds of people filled the room... Read More

Income Pooling and Living Standards
Sara Cantillon presents “Income Pooling, Decision Making and Living Standards within Households - Evidence from the 2010 Survey on Income and Living Conditions” on Thursday March... Read More

Without Their Permission
Reddit co-founder Alexis Ohanian will visit UMass Amherst to present “Without Their Permission,” a discussion on how the Internet offers an incredible opportunity for... Read More

Opening Doors
Honors student Shirin Hakim was recently featured in the Gazette for her Honors Thesis work with Craig's Doors. Craig's Doors is a resource advocacy program at the Amherst... Read More

Technology and State: Changes?
We live in an age where technology grants us nearly limitless opportunities. But how do we, as individuals or as pieces of a social system, use those opportunities? On Tuesday,... Read More
Home in their Hearts
Every Friday morning for the past year, a group of students from the University of Massachusetts can be seen at Veteran’s Park in Northampton either playing a game of pick-up... Read More

Pettiford One of Five to Select BusinessWest's 2014 "40 Under Forty" Shonda Pettiford, CHC’s assistant director for Communication, has been chosen to be one of the five judges scoring nominations submitted to BusinessWest’s “40 Under Forty” Class... Read More

Opie to Receive Churchill Scholarship
Morgan Opie, a math and physics double major, is one of 14 students in the country to receive a 2014 Churchill Scholarship. The Winston Churchill Foundation of the United States... Read More

Pérez on WGBY’s Connecting Point
Associate Professor of Biological Archaeology Ventura R. Pérez, Ph.D. recently appeared on an episode of WGBY’s Connecting Point. On the show, Pérez talked about his field school... Read More

Borges and McCormick awarded CYBEX undergraduate research grants
Kinesiology majors Alexander Borges and Kara McCormick are the first students to be awarded CYBEX undergraduate research grants, through a new agreement between the Department of... Read More

The Mystery of the Bees
Every scientific study begins the same as any classic mystery. Some great incident occurs--something disappears or goes tragically wrong. Then it’s up to the detective, or in this... Read More

Alum’s Tweets Are Among the Year's Best
Commonwealth Honors College alumnus Peter Sokolowski works with all kinds of words as the editor-at-large at Merriam-Webster. When developing the list of top ten Words of the Year... Read More
BusinessWest Discusses the Success of CHCRC
The new Commonwealth Honors College Residential Complex has truly made an impact on the UMass Amherst campus. A recent story, "Honors College is Changing the Landscape at UMass... Read More

The World at Your Feet
International Scholars Program Director Tim Lang, as well as several program alumni, had many great things to say at a recent Weekly Wednesday Workshop. Lang began by highlighting... Read More

Tatum Featured in PBS Religion and Ethics Newsweekly
PBS interviewed London Tatum '13 and UMass Amherst Sociology Professor Tom Juravich on the changing perception of the American Dream for the current generation. Tatum is a... Read More

Eyes With Pride
“How are your feet?” “Together!” “How is your chin?” “Up!” “How are your eyes?” “With pride!” With pride. This is how members of the UMass Minuteman Marching Band stand at... Read More

A Passion for Change
Zoë Talkin '13 acknowledges she has become, "a better student, a better thinker, and a better activist" during her time at UMass Amherst. Her dedication to her academics and a... Read More

Scholarship Opportunity
Massachusetts Women in Public Higher Education Inc., (MWPHE), provides a support network, enhances professional development, encourages and promotes upward mobility, and addresses... Read More

Listening to Learn
Children love to hear stories. But Marina Simons '14 enjoys listening to the stories that children themselves tell, particularly kids with High Functioning Autism (HFA),... Read More
Students Network with Alumni in Law
On October 30, Commonwealth Honors College, the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences and the Pre-Law program hosted a networking event called “Meet the Law.” More than 25... Read More

Source URL (retrieved on 04/08/2016 - 9:14pm):
https://www.honors.umass.edu/bragging-writes?page=8