Rachel Haley
Class Year: 2019
During my first study abroad experience, I traveled to San Antonio, Guatemala, to complete a summer internship with the DiGiamargio Honors College Scholarship for Community Engaged Research. During this time, I spent three months in Guatemala working in a rural clinic with a small nonprofit based... Read More

Class Year: 2018
When I chose to study abroad in Ghana, I knew it was going to be a fun yet challenging experience. The first month I lived in Accra was the most difficult, but as time went on, I felt more comfortable and became more independent. Immersing myself in the culture helped me understand unfamiliar... Mina Puig
Class Year: 2019
My study abroad experience challenged my beliefs, pushed my comfort zone, and expanded my knowledge of myself and the globe. I was able to experience urban Tanzanian life as well as rural life, and I gained a level of fluency in Swahili I would not have been able to achieve simply from my studies... Read More

Kelly Robertson
Class Year: 2019
My study abroad experience was incredible. Studying abroad was a period of immense Oxford has its own unique history, tradition, exploration, both internally and externally. and class structure that was very different... Read More

Class Year: 2019
My time in Lebanon changed me in to what I was used to. The dining hall that I ate in every day looked like something straight out of a Harry Potter movie with long tables where the students sat and...

Anwesha Saha
Class Year: 2019
Edinburgh is a city with an old-world charm intertwined with nascent buds of modernization here and there. It is a city that lives its history and culture every day. Hundreds of people flock to this magical fairyland where people believe in sea monsters and unicorns, and I was one among that...

Cecilia Schirmeister
Class Year: 2019
Studying abroad in Paris was an incredibly formative and fulfilling experience. I lived in the 14th arrondissement in a residential neighborhood with a wonderful host family. I became very close with my two French host brothers. They introduced me to the culture of young Parisians, teaching me...

Class Year: 2019
I spent three and a half months in the Dominican Republic and stayed with a host family in Santiago. I attended Pontifica Universidad Católica Madre y Maestra and I did service at El Patronato de Rehabilitación. El Patronato is a rehabilitation center for people with physical and mental...

Katie Franklin
Class Year: 2019
During my semester studying at NUIG, I had the opportunity to take classes in topics ranging from psychology to Irish culture and history. While I did take five academic classes during my semester abroad, I felt like the most enriching learning experiences were those outside of the classroom. I was...

Jack Cohn
Class Year: 2019
To aptly depict my time in Buenos Aires, it’s necessary to touch upon my experience with the Spanish language. For many and I years, I have been slowly building up confidence while speaking and writing in Spanish. Naturally, however, the essential missing links for achieving fluency were blatantly...
